Third Surprise Landing On Luzon Puts Japanese In Precarious Position

FALL OF MANILA BELIEVED NEAR

By LEE VAN ATTA
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Luzon, Feb. 2.—Spearheads of two American armies, forging a gigantic nut-cracker upon the entire Manila Bay area after the third amphibious assault inside of 48 hours, rolled relentlessly toward Manila and the Cavite naval base, rendering imminent liberation of these rich Luzon prizes.

Last reported positions of Eighth Army units storming toward Cavite from new beachheads in the Nasugbu area of Batangas were only 15 miles southwest of the great naval base, while Sixth Army forces driving south of Calumpit were scarcely 21 miles north of the Philippine capital.

Another Invasion
Latest invasion of Luzon was announced by Gen. Douglas MacArthur this morning when he told of the landing Wednesday morning of U. S. Eighth Army men and tanks near Nasugbu, 32 miles southwest of Cavite.

PA NEWC Observes

It seems to be the consensus of opinion today that if the groundhog was able to get out of his den and take a look around today, he saw his shadow and immediately headed back for six weeks' more hibernation. But the possibility that the groundhog was out is really remote.

It is amazing how high the snow is piling up around the city as the groundfall increases almost daily. Piles where snow is shoveled from sidewalks and streets are now getting higher and higher, some places five or six feet.

Gov. Edward Martin today proclaimed the week beginning February 5, national "know your state week." Every undertaking which stimulates greater knowledge of our state contributes to good citizenship and promotes the welfare of our people," he stated.

Infants born in the New Castle hospital during the month of January totaled 50, with 26 being female infants and 24 male infants. Two sets of twins were born in January.

Among others, pupils of Croton school will be sorry to learn that "Maxine," the monkey owned by Miss Lena Altman of 324 Harding street, died of pneumonia on Thursday evening. Miss Altman purchased the pet about ten years ago. The children enroute back and forth to school always enjoyed the antics of Maxine. She loved bananas which came rather high just now.

"Brownout" now in effect nightly in this city presents rather an unusual appearance to the downtown section. All windows and signs are dark, except in places where business is being conducted. Looking down Washington street, about the only lights that are visible are the street lights.

Crucial Battle Of World War II Nears On Eastern Front

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
(Written Especially For I. N. S.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—The most strategic, decisive and crucial battle of World War II has started, and is about to start, on the eastern front where the Red offensive is approaching Berlin, one spearhead from the north, the other from the south.

If the Soviet forces cross the Oder river to the east of Berlin, the capital of Germany will fall. What the Nazi defense of the Oder river will be is anybody's guess. However, as it is their last natural defense to the east of Berlin, it must be assumed that the German legions will attempt to fight on the Oder with the same ferocity they have displayed on the western front. If they do, we will see one of the most bitter, hard-fought, desperate and bloody battles which have ever taken place during World War II.

House-Approved Work Draft Bill Goes To Senate

Senate Military Affairs Committee Takes Up "Work Or Jail" Measure

By WILLIAM THEIS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The Senate Military Affairs committee took up the house-approved "work or jail" bill today for what was expected to be swift clearance to a Senate hostile to any compulsory manpower program.

Adopted by a house vote of 246 to 165 after administration forces beat off all amendments, the legislation crossed the capital in what many believed was a race against rising home-front optimism generated by the smashing Russian offensive.

Sen. Thomas (D) Utah, military chairman, promptly called his committee into closed session to consider amendments to the bill to force men from 18 to 45 into essential jobs and freeze those now so employed where they are.

Thomas, despite personal opposition to "mandatory legislation," said that he believed his committee would report the May bill without extended hearings—if any.

See Stormy Course
But senate observers predicted the legislation was heading into an amphitheater as stormy as the house, where in four days of bitter debate it narrowly escaped wholesale revision.

British Bombers Join Russians In Attack On Berlin

LONDON, Feb. 2.—(INS)—Night bombers of the British Royal Air Force were declared by Air Marshal Sir Arthur T. Harris today to have joined with the Russians in the battle for Berlin with a formidable assault last night on key rail points supplying the Nazis in the east.

More than 1,000 British planes took part in the attacks which included a bombing of strife-ridden Berlin.

An official air ministry communiqué said that the prime purpose of the raid was to prevent the Germans from sending large bodies of troops and equipment to the embattled eastern front.

Principal targets included the railway centers of Mainz, Ludwigshafen and Siegen, all of which were heavily attacked.

U. S. Troops On Southern Front Reach Rhine

American First Army Also Smashing Through Some Siegfried Line Defenses

DENY REPORTS NAZI ARTILLERY SILENT

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Feb. 2.—Troops of the American First Army, supported by mobile 155 millimeter guns, tore into German Siegfried line pillboxes southeast of Monschau today, knocking out the enemy defenses one by one.

The assault against the formidable westwall fortifications was pressed as French and American forces at the lower end of the battle line regained the initiative along the entire southern front and smashed forward to reach the Rhine at several points.

The Ninth and 99th Divisions of Lieut. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' First Army were engaged in the fighting beyond Monschau, some 17 miles southeast of Aachen.

Knock Out Pillboxes
The self-propelled 155 millimeter guns were proving a big help in knocking out the German pillboxes which the Yanks began to assault after making their way through dragon teeth defenses set up by the Germans in front of the stronger fortifications.

A spokesman at supreme headquarters, denying circulated reports that Nazi Siegfried line artillery was silent, said that German batteries were hurling shells at the Americans in an effort to defend Hitler's troops manning the pillbox defenses.

The American-supported French First army, after relieving the Nazi threat to the city of Strasbourg, advanced to the Rhine at numerous places north of the city of Colmar.

Considerably strong forces of American and French troops pushed up into new positions between Strasbourg and Colmar. The area (Continued on Page Two)

Br'er Groundhog Has Competition

BALTIMORE, Feb. 2.—(INS)—This is the day on which br'er groundhog makes his annual weather forecast—but he'd better be right on the beam if he wants to retain his traditional reputation as a seer, in the opinion of Bendix Aviation Corp. savants.

Modern weather observers now are equipped with a device that is perhaps the woodchuck's severest critic—an electric-magnetic sunshine recorder developed by the corporation's friez instrument division.

It automatically registers the duration of sunshine, and keeps a permanent day-to-day record of old Sol's performances.

So if the groundhogs want to keep their reputations unvarnished, they'd better take more than one quick look today, or old man science will trip 'em up.

Mr. Brindle then asked for an opinion from the solicitor Robert L. Wallace as to whether or not the teachers had to be paid for the days they were idle. Mr. Wallace replied that they were not entitled to payment for days off due to a shortage of coal.

Report Belgian Cabinet Resigns

LONDON, Feb. 2.—(INS)—The Belgian cabinet of Premier Hubert Pierlot resigned today, a Reuter dispatch from Brussels reported.

The dispatch said that Pierlot was received last night by Prince Charles and it was understood that his resignation was tendered at that time.

Pierlot during the night received the five socialist ministers, including Paul Henri Spaak, foreign minister, who handed him their resignations in accordance with a decision of the Belgian socialist party. The party had voted for the resignation of the cabinet.

The enemy broadcast denied that the raiding Superfortress had caused any damage.

Double Tragedy Occurs At Corner Of Highland And Winter Avenues Thursday Evening

VICTIMS KILLED AS THEY AWAITED BUS

One of the most distressing traffic accidents to occur here in some time resulted in the death of two women at 5 o'clock Thursday evening.

The women killed are: Mrs. Assunta Monney, aged 54 years, of 626 Chestnut street, and Mrs. Ethel M. Brown, aged 53 years, of 411 Shady Side. They were struck by a truck owned by Andrew Pfahles, local coal dealer, and driven by John Assid of 1812 Pennsylvania avenue, at Highland and Winter avenues.

According to the information gathered by Coroner T. F. Nugent, and city police, who investigated the circumstances, the two women were waiting to board a bus at the northwest corner of Winter avenue, at Highland.

At the same time, an auto driven by S-Sgt. Frank Gibson Doerr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Doerr, of 433 Winter avenue, home on convalescent furlough from Fort Thomas, Ky., was waiting in the face of northbound traffic on Highland avenue, to make a left turn into Winter avenue.

SIBUL BARRIO, Luzon, Jan. 31.—(Delayed)—With the due credit being given to daring American Rangers and hardy Filipino guerrillas, authorities conceded today that the rescue of the more than 4,500 Allied prisoners of war from the Jap camp near Cabanatuan was made possible in part by a benign combination of circumstances.

The liberated men agreed as they rested today at this native village that if the Rangers had made their breathtaking sortie 25 miles into Jap territory three weeks ago, the mission could not have been as brilliantly successful as it was.

Declare Berlin Being Fortified

Defenses Being Constructed In Streets Of City Say Reports From City

By STEN HEDMAN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 2.—Berlin was declared today to have been transformed into a frontline city.

The Berlin correspondent of the newspaper Dagens Nyheter, in a remarkably frank dispatch, reported that if anyone had doubted that Berlin will be fought for street by street, the barricades and other defenses which have been thrown up would change that opinion.

Intense work to construct defenses, even in the center of the city, was reported in progress.

Explosions echo through the streets as the Nazis continue to blow up houses which have been bombed from the air, while Berliners grow fearful that very soon these blasts may be accompanied by the boom of Soviet artillery in the east.

Herd Men In
Additional men were reported being herded into the ranks of the Volksturm (people's army) from day to day to defend the Reich capital.

Numerous business enterprises were described as virtually abandoned. (Continued on Page Two)

Liberated Yanks Seek Retaliation Against Captors

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—(INS)—Retaliation for Japanese atrocities was foremost in the minds of several of the Americans rescued by U. S. Rangers from a Japanese prisoner stockade on Luzon, Mutual broadcasting system said today.

Mutual's correspondent, Royal Arch Gunnison, reported that a dozen of the men, taken prisoner at Bataan and Corregidor, said that they wanted "to get back into service against the Japanese so that we can retaliate against the atrocities we have seen for the past three years."

"What they promised to do to the Nips is unprintable," Gunnison said.

Huge Casualties In Mexican Wreck

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 2.—(INS)—The possibility that casualties in the worst train wreck in Mexico's history may reach 300 dead and 400 injured was reported in dispatches from the interior today.

Many coaches of the wrecked train still burned last night, according to reports from the scene of the disaster in Hidalgo state, 100 miles from the Mexican capital.

Marshal Zhukov's Armored Legions Slam Across Oder Says Enemy Source

RUSSIAN DRIVE SURGING AHEAD

By NATALIA RENE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Feb. 2.—Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's armored legions have slammed across the Oder river, last major natural barrier before Berlin, at a point "just east" of that German citadel, enemy sources reported today.

The London Evening News, in a dispatch relayed to Moscow, quoted the Voelkischer Beobachter of Berlin as reporting that the Reds have crossed the frozen Oder. The paper reputedly is owned by Adolf Hitler.

Again Moscow maintained silence on the report, stating only that the Soviets gained new ground in their drive on Berlin after smashing fierce Nazi counter-attacks launched by fresh enemy reserves.

Reserves At Frankfurt
Front advances said that fresh German reserves had been flung into action by the Nazi high command on the approaches to Frankfurt.

Am-Oder as Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov sent up long lines of reinforcements in apparent preparation for an eventual crossing of the Oder at its nearest point to the Nazi capital.

U. S. Subs Sink Ten Jap Ships

Raises To 989 Number Of Jap Ships Sunk Or Put Out Of Action

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(INS)—The Navy announced today that American submarines operating in Far Eastern waters have sunk 10 additional Japanese merchant vessels.

That raises to 989 the number of Japanese ships of all types officially reported put out of action by American submarines. The total is undoubtedly much higher, however, for the Navy does not announce figures on ships probably sunk or damaged.

Transporters Go Down
Included in the sinkings reported today were one large transport, one medium transport, two medium cargo ships, two medium and one small tankers, and three small cargo vessels.

The Navy thus far this year has announced the sinking of 65 Japanese ships, including five combat vessels, a cruiser, a destroyer and three escort ships.

The total of non-combat vessels sunk to date in submarine operations is now 885.

Well, the groundhog saw his "shadder," that's sad news and getting sadder for it means we'll have the winter for another six-week stay, and the coal is getting lower and the snow is getting "snowier" though the weather's up a little for it's twenty-five today. Six more weeks of cold and chill, those who want old fashioned winters this year surely get their fill. But the groundhog saw his "shadder" and there's nothing to be done, "cept to say we'll still have winter, that's where this verse was begun."

Missing Georgia Youth Is Found In New Jersey

Donald Jay Edelstein II Faces Session In Woodshed, Took $11,650

BRADLEY BEACH, N. J., Feb. 2. (INS)—Donald Jay Edelstein, 11, who was found in Bradley Beach with nearly all of the $11,650 he carried away from his Augusta, Ga., home three days ago, was ready today—but not eager—to go back. Donald said he would "rather stay up here" and be with his pal, David "Snooky" Lerner, 11, whom he left Augusta to visit on his jaunt north.

Meyer Edelstein, the lad's foster father, who is public safety director of Augusta, was due to arrive today to escort Donald home. Donald decided to "come east" last Tuesday and left school—and town—when he obtained permission to go home to get a textbook.

Donald took $11,500 in $1,000, $500 and $100 bills and $150 from another fund at his home. He took a cab to nearby Aiken, S. C., and a train to New York. At Pennsylvania station, he was taken into custody by an agent of the Travelers' Aid society, but escaped. And took a train to Bradley Beach.

When found by police at the home of Rabbi Seymour Gerwitz, in Bradley Beach, to whom he went to seek aid in finding his friend, "Snooky", Donald had all of the $11,500 and all that was left of the $150 minus the traveling expenses. Donald was adopted by the Edelsteins several years ago when his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Deutch, of Bradley Beach separated.

BIG THREE MAY DEMAND EARLY NAZI SURRENDER

Joseph Goebbels, Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler, Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop and lesser associates.

Disintegration of a vast area of Germany through stubborn "last ditch" military resistance in the southern area, centered on Berchtesgaden, is indicated in reports reaching the British foreign office from inside Germany, the diplomatic writer of the Daily Express said.

It is believed that as soon as the big three have discussed military decisions, he said, they will consider these reports.

Postwar Germany Problems
Although it is not suggested that anything in the nature of an organized rising has taken place in Germany, the writer continued from many quarters comes news that the ordinary processes of law have collapsed.

This information, in addition to other facts which have become known, is expected to lead Churchill to press for preparations to cope with a post-war Germany.

British policy favors international control of the Rhineland and Ruhr and the prime minister undoubtedly will emphasize this viewpoint.

Several months ago Britain, the United States and Russia agreed on terms to be included in an instrument of surrender to be given the Germans when the proper time arrived and the conferees are expected to decide at the parley whether the time is ripe now.

A Germany divided into three independent states was believed by the diplomatic expert of the London Daily Mirror to be the aim of an American plan to be discussed by the big three.

The same writer said that Spanish republicans believe that the parley will debate on the firm demand by Stalin to end the regime of Generalissimo Francisco Franco in Spain.

and MacArthur's Bataan hospital chief, said most of the men gained about seven pounds in the three weeks preceding their release while some gained as much as 25 pounds. "If those Rangers had come three weeks ago," Duckworth said, "our men wouldn't have been able to walk out of the camp. We needed those three weeks of food to get strong enough to walk out."

Yesterday, Duckworth said, American planes circled the camp much longer than usual, and this seemed to mean that Manila had been freed.

They were not completely prepared for what the planes really indicated—their delivery.

Last night the prisoners retired as usual to their lightless huts.

Capt. Ralph Hibbs of Oskaloosa, Iowa, said he was preparing for bed at 7:30 p. m. when a fusillade of shots shattered the silence of the black night.

"I was certain it was the Japs beginning a massacre," Hibbs said. "We'd all feared it would come and it would be so hard to take with the Americans so near."

Pvt. Bernard Holden, 27, (address not available) had some bitter personal reminiscences to relate.

"We had to build 3,500 kilometers of railroad for the Japs in Thailand," he said. "Last year they loaded us on boats that were strafed by American planes over the Philippines on September 21. It took us nine days to reach the Philippines and we got only two small meals a day, served in coconut shells."

There are 22 bones contained in the human skull. Eight of these from the skeleton of the cranium, and 14 that of the face.

GERMAN PAPER MAKES REPORT ODER CROSSED

least one attempt to cross the Oder at Kustrin, but gave no details on the result of the push.

The Paris radio, heard by CBS, said other Red columns fanning out northeast of Berlin have reached points within 39 miles of the Baltic port of Stettin.

Soviets Gain
German reserves also were sent into battle on the outer defense line of Kustrin put all Nazi counterattacks were smashed and the Soviets continued to gain ground.

(A late dispatch by the German transoceanic agency said that the First White Russian army commander had brought up strong forces to the Oder on both sides of imperilled Frankfurt.)

Front correspondents said there were indications from the Koenigsberg area that the red army was planning to storm the East Prussian capital from all sides to force surrender of the Nazi holdout garrison there.

Split Germans Into Groups
Russian infantry which split the Germans into two groups by breaking through to the Frisches Haff, Baltic sea lagoon west of Koenigsberg, were massing while red army artillery continued to shell the German strongpoints.

Last gains of Zhukov's army officially reported totaled 15 miles and Nazi broadcast placed Soviet spearheads within 39 miles of the German capital.

Announcing that thousands of men, women and children were digging trenches around Berlin—its rubble blasted anew by RAF night bombers—Berlin broadcasts said red forces had smashed to the Oder northwest of the fortress city of Kustrin.

Oder Frozen
The frozen Oder, last formidable barrier to Berlin in that area, winds to within 27 miles of the capital.

As capture of 152 Brandenburg towns widened the central invasion front to 100 miles, other Soviet forces smashed northeast of flaming Koenigsberg in East Prussia to within seven and one-half miles of Danzig bay.

Soviet front dispatches announcing the red army controlled more than 95 per cent of isolated East Prussia, said Koenigsberg was in "utter panic" following the capture of sections of the city and isolation of its Baltic outlet of Pillau.

Encircle Center
At the same time, the Soviet high command announced the final encirclement of Schneidemuehl, Pomeranian communications center on the Danzig-Berlin railroad, and capture of the north Polish Vistula bastion of Torun.

To the north and northwest of Schneidemuehl, seven more large Pomeranian towns fell to the Russians in a 10-mile northward advance.

And south of Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's central smash at Berlin, Moscow reported a new thrust into Germany from the Polish frontier town of Leszno (Lissa) which reached to within 10 miles of the Oder in southern Brandenburg province.

This new offshoot of one of the mightiest invasion drives in history was pointed toward a junction with the north wing of Marshal Ivan S. Konev's first Ukrainian army, reported in a Bucharest broadcast to have advanced to the outskirts of Luben, on the Breslau-Berlin railroad.

As Moscow announced the seizure of Lagow, 31 miles from the Oder—defense anchor of Frankfurt, Russian artillery was reported shelling the ancient city, which lies 38 miles from the Reich capital.

Low-flying Stormovik planes pounded the 17-mile Frankfurt-Kustrin defense line as Soviet might closed a blazing 75-mile arc on Berlin from the northeast, east and southeast in an attempt to crush the Oder line and burst into the open terrain before the capital.

The frontal advance on Berlin pressed westward along the 40-mile corridor between the east-west Warthe river and the north shoulder of the Oder's eastern bend southwest of Frankfurt.

coal, headed south, came down Highland, behind the Doerr car. There are high ridges of snow and ice on either side of Highland avenue at this point, leaving virtually only enough room in the center of the roadway for two cars to pass.

Asid, it is said, was unable to bring his truck to a stop and oncoming traffic prevented him from passing to the left so he swerved to the right behind the Doerr car, just clipping its rear bumper, and running down the two women who were standing at the curb. They were hurled into the roadway of Winter avenue, their bodies badly crushed.

Sgt. Doerr jumped from his car and went to the assistance of the women. Training received in the medical corps of the U. S. army seemed to indicate that they were dead then, he stated. They were placed in an ambulance and taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where they were pronounced dead.

Chief of Police Robert D. Hanna stated this morning that an information has been made against Asid, the driver, aged 22 years, for operating a motor vehicle without a license. District Attorney Leroy Donaldson is conducting an investigation and may prefer further charges against the young man. Coroner T. F. Nugent plans to hold an inquest to bring out the facts in the case.

administration measure with anti-closed shop and anti-discrimination amendments were defeated in the house by appeals to sectional blocs that crossed and recrossed party lines.

Two major substitutes to the legislation, each far different from the bill of Rep. May (D) Ky., military chairman, were rejected at the end—along with a threatening motion to send the labor draft measure back to May's committee.

Vote In House
The final vote found the bill supported by 180 Democrats, 65 Republicans and one American-labor party member. It was opposed by 48 Democrats, 116 Republicans and one Progressive.

The motion of Rep. Short (R) Mo., to recommend the May bill was defeated by a vote of 229 to 183.

One change in the bill, recommended to the senate by government departments directly concerned, appeared likely to be adopted by Thomas' committee. It was a proposal that all administrative functions be placed under War Mobilizer James P. Byrnes.

The house version give Byrnes or any agency he designates authority to certify industries in need of manpower. But it gives selective service, through local draft boards, sole power to make actual assignment of a man to a war job.

Under the bill, men 18-44 could not leave "essential jobs without permission from their draft boards and all men in that group would be required to shift to designated work if ordered to by local boards. Violators would be subject to maximums of $10,000 fine and five years in prison if unfit for military service, or to army induction if they are fit.

ed by persons not wishing to remain in the city which soon may be threatened by the Russian advance.

A German military spokesman was quoted by the correspondent of the Svenska Dagbladet as stating that Germany is taking counter-measures to meet the Soviet steamroller but explained that it was impossible to decide whether it was intended these measures will be taken east or west of Berlin.

This correspondent said Berlin had been turned overnight into a city under siege.

enemy. Therefore, we may safely assume that no matter how bitter and desperate the battle for the Oder and Berlin may be, the Red armies have fully prepared for it.

Germany and Berlin are truly in a desperate situation. A maximum of United Nations pressure is being exerted against the Reich from the west, from the south, and from the east.

It would seem impossible that Hitler could now shift any of his divisions from one front to another. If he made such a movement, it would open a hole in his lines through which the western allies or the Soviets would instantly pour into Germany.

Germans Hard Pressed
It is definitely true that with the losses suffered by the Nazi armies since Stalingrad, the German high command has not sufficient combat divisions left to properly defend their entire circular front.

If the Nazis stay in Berlin and fight to the death, the struggle will be incomparable to the combat which has heretofore taken place at any other great city. Warsaw and Stalingrad will be as nothing in the desperate bitter fighting which will take place.

There is no combat in the world so bloody, so desperate, as street-to-street and house-to-house fighting. Usually when the attackers move into the city, the defenders give up or run. But if they stay to fight, every single house becomes a fort which must be individually overcome. The defenders may tunnel from dwelling to dwelling. Nothing can be so bloody as when the defenders make a determined stand.

The most decisive history the world has ever known is being written by the minute. The results will be known in the near future.

available for schools late this afternoon. At that time he said he hoped to be able to announce when it would be possible to open the schools.

To Prepare Report
Several other matters were discussed. The board decided to have a condensed version of the recent report of Dr. John Guy Fowkes prepared in order to get wider distribution of the report than has been possible with the present voluminous report.

An emergency leave was authorized for Miss Rose Uhl, if Superintendent Burton can so arrange his schedule to permit the leave. Miss Uhl expects to go overseas with a Red Cross unit.

An adjustment of the salaries of experienced teachers who have come into the system in the past six years was authorized. Partial credit will be given for experience in other systems and a financial adjustment made, effective next school year.

between the Ill river and the Rhine was practically cleared of enemy units.

Weather Improves
The promise of strong aerial support to Allied ground forces along the western front today was held out by a welcome improvement in the weather.

Gains of from 800 yards to almost two miles in areas southeast of Monchshausen by the First Army. Northeast of Monchshausen Gen. Hodges' forces engaged in mop-up operations.

East of the Belgian town of Rockerath four miles from the German frontier, the Yanks scored steady gains through wooded areas and moved up to within a few hundred yards of the Reich frontier.

Schonberg, six miles east of St. Vith, was captured, while other American units advanced two miles farther east and crossed the Belgian-German border to capture Lausfeld.

Yank Third Army troops farther south were within a mile of Winterscheid after taking Eigelscheid and Heckhaefel.

Front dispatches said that the Third Army also had captured the towns of Heckuscheid and Groh-langen today.

Seventh Breaks Lull
American Seventh Army Forces southeast of Haguenau, near the Rhine, broke a six-day lull on the northern Alsace plain with an attack which gained upwards of two miles, enabling the Yanks to cross the Moder river.

Hard fighting was reported in progress around Oberhofen as the Germans sought to stem the American push.

Below Haguenau the Germans were cleared from the forest by Stalpauld.

French forces hitting at German units south of the Colmar canal scored advances of up to three miles. Nazi resistance continued strong at the southern edge of Colmar itself where only local gains were made.

Supreme headquarters announced officially that forces of both the First and Third armies now have eliminated the last vestige of the bulge which had been held by the Germans in Belgium and Luxembourg after Nazi Field Marshal Karl Gerd Von Rundstedt smashed westward in his Dec. 16 offensive.

Coal Parley Is Now Shaping Up

Three-Way Fight In New Wage Negotiations Appears To Be Looming

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The pattern of the forthcoming coal wage negotiations began shaping up today with another three-way fight involving the operators, the government and the United Mine Workers Union in prospect.

Although John L. Lewis will demand wage increases in one form or another for his 500,000 miners, it is doubtful if the bushy-browed UMW chief can himself foresee at the moment whether another production stoppage will occur in the nation's coal fields.

The 200-man policy committee of the union has been summoned to Washington February 26 to formulate the wage demand and negotiations with the coal mine owners which will begin March 1. The present contract expires March 31.

The UMW journal laid down the groundwork for the miners wage case with an article accusing OPA of engineering "the big gyp of 1944." The journal asserted that OPA raffled 42 coal company stores from glass three to class one with the highest retail margin of profit, paying the way for similar action by all such stores and adding millions of dollars annually to the miners' food bill.

Assaults Report
In the same issue, the UMW publication vigorously assailed the cost of living report of the War Labor Board as being inadequate and misleading.

It is apparent that Lewis will fight strongly against another government-directed contract such as ended 1943's strike-punctuated wage parley. In that year, the coal-wage stalemate was broken when Lewis signed an agreement with Fuel Administrator Ickes which subsequently was translated into a private contract with the operators.

Advance rumblings of Lewis' opposition to a repetition of such government intervention have come from Ohio where District UMW President John Owens declared that collective bargaining must be maintained during the war.

Moreover, Lewis has declined a government request to advance the starting time of the 1945 negotiations in order to give a longer period for bargaining before expiration of the existing agreement. The UMW chief also is reported to have refused to commit himself on a request for extension of the present contract if a new one has not been completed by March 31.

Lewis may not launch a final assault on the government's "Little Steel" wage stabilization formula. But may be content to seek higher wages through so-called "fringe" issues as have been granted other unions. The UMW may seek shift differentials and full rates for travel time instead of the present two-thirds figure.

During World War I there were 23 American aviation aces, credited with six or more victories in the air. Captain Edward Rickenbacker led the list with 26 victories.

Plan Wolf Hunt Near Warren, Ohio

WARREN, O., Feb. 2.—Fowler Township men today planned a wolf hunt on reports of several residents that a pack of six wolves is roaming territory back of Nutwood.

The family of John Macula reported today that three animals they identified as wolves approached close to their home. Mrs. Carl Youngbluth and her daughter Joyce, said they followed tracks after they had seen six wolves and that they suddenly approached the animals as they walked up to a fence bordering a woods. Joyce fell down and her mother fired a .22 caliber rifle shot to frighten away the animals.

Deliver 37 Ships During January

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 2.—(INS)—East coast merchant shipyards delivered 37 ships during January, J. F. McNair regional construction director of the U. S. Maritime commission, announced today.

The total included 13 Liberty ships, six Victories, eight tankers, seven cargo ships and three military type vessels.

Five of the tankers were turned out at the Sun Shipbuilding & Drydock Co., Chester, and one of the cargo vessels was produced at the Pusey & Jones Corp., Wilmington, Del.

TO HONOR WAR ACE

OIL CITY, Pa., Feb. 2.—(INS)—Oil City residents on February 12 will participate in ceremonies in honor of Lt. Col. Francis S. Gabrieli, fighter pilot ace credited with 31 planes before he became a prisoner of the Nazis.

The ceremonies were postponed in order to permit Army Air Forces officers from Washington to be present. The Distinguished Service Cross and other medals won by the pilot will be presented to his father, Stanley Gabrieli.

Rescues Mallard Duck Off Course

Mrs. J. N. Dunn of 305½ South Walnut street phoned to Owen Fox on Wednesday evening stating that a wild duck had flown against her cellar window, and she went out and picked it up, it having swooned upon the impact.

Mr. Fox went to the Dunn home on Thursday, secured the bird which proved to be a female Mallard duck, and took it to Gaston park and fed it. It ate heavily of corn, then squatted for a rest, the bird doubtless being famished for food. Mr. Fox says the duck's feathers were in good shape but somewhat sooty from its travels.

Owen states that it is strange for this bird to be in this vicinity at this season of the year as their feeding grounds are along lakes and rivers in the warm weather, and these ducks should now be in a southern clime. This is another instance of the unusual things wildlife will do, and get so far off their regular course.

YANKS ROLLING RELENTLESSLY ON TOWARD MANILA

powerful sea and air fleets, the Yanks—personally directed by Lieut. Gen. Robert Eichelberger—went ashore without losing a man to enemy action. Once established, and with Eichelberger on the beaches with them, they struck inland and by mid-morning were "well inland."

Admitting that the Yanks had achieved success in their landings in the Subic Bay and Batangas coastal areas of Luzon, the Japanese Domei agency said that the amphibious assaults brought a "further serious turn" in the "war situation in the Manila sector."

As heard by the FCC, the Domei broadcast said that "some three divisions" were put ashore in the area, landing from a "powerful convoy" which approached from the south.

Yanks Are Spurred

News of the dramatic rescue by American-Filipino Rangers of at least 510 veterans of Bataan, Corregidor and Singapore spurred the Yanks on and within 48 hours after they landed they were said to be but 30 miles southwest of Manila, meeting "light to negligible" opposition.

Describing the Japanese as once again "caught off-balance," MacArthur in his communique declared: "This operation places the Eighth Army on the south side of Manila, which now is the center of the converging columns of the Sixth and Eighth armies."

"It largely seals off the possibility of the enemy troops south of Manila joining those to the north and definitely outflanks the enemy's defense lines in southern Luzon."

The new landings, bringing MacArthur's assault strength speeding toward Manila to at least seven combat divisions totalling perhaps 100,000 men and smaller attack elements, were expected virtually under the muzzles of Corregidor's once-formidable long-range guns.

Jap Guns Silent

However, these batteries remained silent as covering naval forces—including cruisers and destroyers—maneuvered less than five miles to the southwest. Nor was there any opposition from other shore guns in the path of the eighth army's landing troops who went ashore at 8:15 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Only light enemy resistance was encountered by Yank columns advancing east of Olongapo, naval base second in importance only to Cavite. Olongapo fell to Eighth Army troops who landed on the Zamboales west coast two days before the Nasubgu assault.

The Tokyo radio claimed that Jap submarines scored four direct torpedo hits on two U. S. transports and an oil tanker off the Zamboales provincial capital of Iba on Tuesday.

In the drive south of Calumpit, some 23½ airline miles above Manila, elements of the 14th Corps rolled up to the Angat river. Advanced patrols continued to operate freely in forward areas, despite their proximity to the Philippine capital.

In the first corps sector of northern Luzon, Sixth Army elements of Lieut. Gen. Walter Krueger's command seized San Nicolas, six miles beyond San Manuel in the Upper Agno Valley. These forces also drove four miles east of captured Tayug.

Swarms of American warplanes, lacking in the first battle of the Manila Bay regions, were in the air continually, blasting repeatedly the enemy-held strongholds of Corregidor and Cavite.

NO LEADERS FOR BERLIN DEFENSE

tic willingness to sacrifice for flag and for country which has characterized all the great sieges of the past.

Had Great Leaders

The Paris of 1871 had Thiers at the helm and Napoleon III, despite his weaknesses, was to some measure a magnificent figure. Brussels in 1914 had its heroic Burgomaster, Max. Warsaw in this conflict had Mayor Stefan Starzynski as its symbol of courage and resistance. Rotterdam held out unbelievably for days because of the example set by Lieut. Gen. Henri Winkelman and the bravery of Gen. Stanislaus Kopanski, one-eyed veteran of the last war, made glimmering history at Gdynia.

But where is Adolf Hitler—or perhaps more important still, where is Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goerring, president of the state of Prussia, number one man in the hierarchy of Berlin's state and municipal government?

There has never been anything in history to compare with the desertion of Berlin by its principal figures in the hour of the city's greatest crisis.

The leaderless plight of Berlin was in sharpest contrast to the Stalingrad which the Nazi capital has chosen to emulate and there was in the situation another example of that poetic justice which has come to the fore on so many previous occasions since Germany began to crack.

Russian soldiers and Russian people held out and won at Stalingrad because at their head was the commanding figure of Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov. Today it is Zhukov who is leading his armies of vengeance to Berlin.

With nothing but Nazi broadcasts and fragmentary reports from neutral capitals to go on, it is difficult to assess the current mental and physical reaction of Berlin's four million people to the overwhelming threat posed by Zhukov's speedy advances.

The most that can be said is that they appear to have become so regimented during twelve years of rule that they are going through the motions of self-defense with a mechanical formality that defies all human and spiritual precedents and rules.

Western Front Yanks Puzzled

Some Curious Antics Of Germans On Part Of Western Front Are Reported By Correspondent

(Editor's Note: Curious antics of German troops on the western front, permitting themselves to be captured and allowing Yanks to go unopposed in the following provocative dispatch from International News Service Staff Correspondent Frank Connel, puzzled G.I.s, officers and correspondents, he says, are wondering just what is motivating the Wehrmacht in this crucial stage of the war.)

By FRANK CONNEL
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)
WITH U. S. FORCES IN GER-
MANY, Feb. 2.—What's cooking on the western front? In other zones, enemy fire has been desultory or widely scattered.

Groups of Germans have been surrendering or allowing themselves to be captured in places where previously they would have resisted to the last ditch. Fortress troops and other bottom of the barrel forces have been found manning key defense points—and doughboys all along the Roer river are enjoying small and pleasant shooting without harassment from the other bank.

Out of Contact
A sizeable number of the best Nazi divisions have been out of contact with the Americans and their whereabouts and eventual use remain a mystery.

In many ways this is the most critical period of the war. In conjunction with the red army's surge, developments of the near future may decide its duration. At this urgent moment the Wehrmacht is acting in a strange and peculiar manner. There may be good reasons for the enemy's actions as it retreats behind the west wall before the first army's impetus. The manpower pinch and the crisis caused by the Russians' mighty drive undoubtedly provide sound reasons for the decisions taken by Nazi commanders on the western front. American officers admit that the Wehrmacht's leadership during the last three months has been superb. Nonetheless, many of them are puzzled by the present situation.

And that brings us back to our starting point: What's cooking on the western front? It may be momentous.

INDUSTRY PLANS POSTWAR FIELD

HARRISBURG, Feb. 2.—Urging industry to go beyond the blue-print stage in the development of post-war markets, provided it does not interfere with war work, the State Department of Commerce today cited a major Pennsylvania industry which is re-establishing in a practical fashion its pre-war customer contracts in South America.

In an effort to gather first-hand information on the South American market, the Baldwin Locomotive Works of Philadelphia sent two of its executives on a three-months inspection tour of 16 countries south of our border. As a result of the 18,000 mile trip, the Baldwin company announced that it has decided to re-establish and step up its pre-war customer relations service.

Reporting on the first-hand observations of the South American trip, C. E. Kraehn, assistant to the vice-president, said:

"The prime desire in South America today is for technical assistance, designs, manufacturing methods, technical supervision—the 'know-how' in other words. Practically all countries there have ambitious plans for industrialization. They have inventoried the various countries where such technical assistance could be obtained and have unanimously chosen the United States."

Because it produces a number of items necessary for this industrial expansion, Baldwin expects to figure largely in the South American industrial growth. Baldwin products include locomotives, hydraulic turbines, hydraulic presses, testing machines, diesel engines.

Kraehn pointed out that the American record of conversion from peacetime to war production in an apparently impossible short time "has them awed and has gained a tremendous respect. If industry reverts to peace with the same efficiency you will find South American respect increased."

Mickey Malaniak Given Silver Star

(Special To The News)
WITH THE FIFTH ARMY, Italy
—Staff Sergeant Mickey Malaniak, son of John Malaniak, R.D. 3, Volant, has been awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action while serving on the Fifth Army front in Italy.

Malaniak's squad was subjected to heavy shelling by the Germans, followed by an attempt to break through the positions. The sergeant continually exposed himself to enemy fire, keeping his men under control and directing the defense in such a way that the enemy was stopped.

With only four men left, Malaniak held this position until the rest of his platoon began advancing to re-occupy the hill which they had previously abandoned. The sergeant was seriously wounded during this action.

Chicago Library Fines Reach $129,000 High

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—If library fines for overdue books are a criterion, Chicago patrons are more forgetful and less thrifty than in pre-war years.

Their contributions during 1944 in fines hit an all-time peak of $129,699.25 the library reports, which is some $16,000 more than the previous high set in 1930, and circulation that year was 4,000,000 volumes greater than in 1944.

These testaments to carelessness go to the library employees' pension fund, under state law. The library reports also that its statistics indicate most borrowers are honest. Only one of every 2,080 books borrowed fails to turn up eventually.

Official Endorses No-Vacation Plea

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—John W. Studebaker, U. S. Commissioner of Education, today endorsed the Office of Defense Transportation request that colleges and universities forego the customary spring vacations this year.

"Probably 300,000 young people will be taking spring vacation trips if the usual plans are carried out," Studebaker said. "I believe that these young people and their parents will be glad to make this small sacrifice."

Berlin's FateWill Germans Burn City
When Russians Arrive
As Threatened?By CHARLES A. SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Feb. 2.—Immediate German surrender, martial law for six months and then civil government under Allied control plus possible dissection of Germany into three separate states were prominent today in London speculation on the outcome of the "big three" meeting.

While reports persisted that the meeting between President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Premier Joseph Stalin was now actually in progress, London continued to be a hotbed of speculation, with the problem of what to do with Germany outstanding as the most popular subject. In view of continuing evidence that the Red Army invasion will likely plow on through Berlin's main streets, these questions were prominently discussed in the British press.

The possibility that a German internal collapse would precede surrender, and the resulting effects thereof.

What Will Happen?

What will happen when the Russians reach Berlin? Will the Germans, as many believe, turn the city, depriving the Russians of a great prize? Will the Nazi regime retreat and continue fighting or just give up?

The British foreign office officially issued a cautious statement: "Anything can happen in Germany in the next few weeks."

What observers believed the most pointed of all opinions was silently expressed in Switzerland—the German mark, valued at 40 cents before the war, was being offered at two cents.

Various reports of an Allied long-term plan concerning Germany offered everything from 10 to 50 percent, according to reports, splitting Germany into three separate states and for Allied civil control after six months of martial law.

VEGETABLE CROPS

HARRISBURG, Feb. 2.—Pennsylvania ranked twelfth among the states in production of commercial vegetables during 1944, a recent survey by the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service State Department of Agriculture discloses. Production totaled approximately 350,000 tons. In the number of acres devoted to such crops the State ranked eleventh with 109,350 acres and was also eleventh in value, $16,710,000.

Must Remove Snow
From Around Mail
Boxes, Hanna Says

Rural Patrons Who Refuse To Comply With Request Will Be Denied Delivery

Unless rural mail patrons remove the snow from around their boxes, they will receive no mail. Postmaster William R. Hanna stated this morning.

Requests were made of rural patrons earlier in the winter, asking them to assist in the delivery of their mail, and only a few have complied. The Postmaster stated. On the Ellwood City road, for instance, there are only two boxes where the snow has been cleared away, permitting the carrier to drive up to the box and deposit the mail, without alighting from the car.

In many cases, it has been found, where there were only women living in a house, that they have cleared away the snow from their mail boxes far better than where there are able-bodied men.

The postal regulations state that rural carriers need not deliver mail where a patron does not provide easy access to the box so that he does not have to alight from his car. It takes rural carriers several hours extra each day to get over their routes. Carriers have become worn out performing this extra duty, and one rural carrier in the county was stricken with a fatal heart attack this week, trying to get the mail to his patrons.

Unless the patrons clear away the snow from their boxes, they will have to come into the main post office to get their mail in the future, Hanna announced today.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—(INS)—German losses on the eastern front between Jan. 12 and 24 totaled 380,000 Nazi troops, according to incomplete reports, the Moscow radio said today.

CONDEMN MANPOWER BILL
CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 2.—(INS)—The May-Bailey manpower bill stood condemned today by President Ira Mosher of the National Association of Manufacturers as discriminatory and according "foxtrot standing to last-minute men" and "hesitant patriots."

Giving work draftees such benefits as transportation allowances, re-employment rights and moratoriums on obligations, provided by the bill, would penalize voluntary war workers. Mosher told the South Jersey Manufacturers Association.

Lawrence County Death Toll In Current War Keeps Mounting As War Rolls On

According to the figures compiled by A. Lewis Conn, chief clerk of the permanent registration bureau, and graves registrar, 236 Lawrence county men have been killed in action or died in service since the outbreak of the war.

At the same time more than 50 men, it is believed, are prisoners of war in Germany, and about the same number have been reported as missing in action, whose status is not known. Some of these men have been missing for at least a year, and some of them, airmen, are believed to be holed up in the mountains of lower Europe, waiting for the war's end before they can safely leave.

Around 500 men have been wounded, several of them as many as three times in the present war, while a number have been wounded twice.

Will Save Fuel
At Eagles' Club

All Saturday night social affairs in the Eagles' club on South Jefferson street will be discontinued until the present coal crisis is passed. President Herbert Johnson announced today. "Months ago we laid in a supply of coal and probably we could continue our Saturday night social affairs without having to ask for coal for some time," said Mr. Johnson. "However, we want to conform to the spirit as well as the letter of the ruling. We believe the coal ration board is an excellent solution of the difficulty and we want to cooperate in every way we can."

WESTFIELD CHURCH SERVICES CANCELLED

Both on account of the condition of the roads and to conserve coal, no services will be held at Westfield Presbyterian church at Mt. Jackson on Sunday, February 4, it was announced today.

The highest mountain peak in Canada is Mt. Logan, 19,850 feet, located in the Yukon, near the Alaskan border.

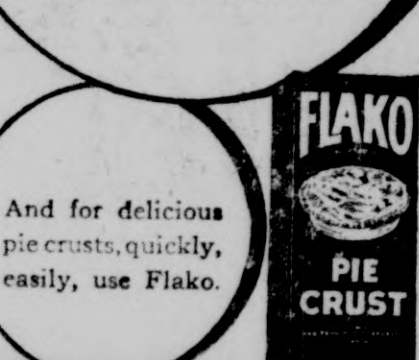

TO SELL CERTIFICATES

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 2.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Railroad company today invited bids for the purchase of $6,000,000 of equipment trust certificates, to finance the construction and acquisition of 25 steam locomotives and tenders and 500 box cars.

Total cost of the equipment is estimated at approximately $7,500,000, with the balance of the cost to be provided by the company.

Six Doughboys Outwit 300 Nazis

Members Of 399th Regiment In Memorable Encounter On Western Front

By JOHN E. LEE

WITH THE U. S. SEVENTH ARMY, France, Feb. 2.—Six American Doughboys who outwitted 300 German soldiers in a hair-raising, slapstick game of hide-and-seek through a rambling outpost building on this front were safely back within U. S. lines today.

Members of the 399th Regiment, the six included Staff Sgt. Irving Bower of McHenry, Ill.; Pvt. Porter W. Lane, Mt. Airy, N. C.; Pvt. Willis C. McIntyre, Western Port, Md.; Pfc. Andrew Powell, Schurz, Nev.

CUTICURA
SOAP and OINTMENT

Pfc. Juan Meza, Laredo, Tex.; and Pvt. Carl L. Syverson Cranston, R. I.

They had been stationed at an advanced listening post several days when early in the morning they spotted a column of Germans approaching their outpost.

The Nazis came too fast for the men to make a getaway but they found a passage into a room whose windows were cemented closed. Entering the room they began hacking at the cement with bayonets and trench-knives but had only partly finished the job when the Germans arrived.

Sticks Hand Through
First the Germans battered at the door and when they had knocked a small hole in it, one stuck his hand through. While the U. S. GIs continued their fight to get the cement away from the window, Powell carefully took aim with his rifle and killed this German.

Just at this moment the last bag of cement rolled free leaving just enough room for the Americans to crawl out, forcing them to abandon their helmets and all arms except Meza's submachine gun.

However, instead of finding themselves outside they found they had entered another long corridor at the end of which they could see a German soldier.

Meza fired his gun, killing the German, but the noise of the gun attracted more Germans so the six dashed through a door leading to a basement and dived into dark corners.

The Germans came down immediately but some reason failed to search the entire basement.

As morning dragged on, the Americans listened to the German soldiers moving about overhead and after nightfall again tiptoed upstairs where they spotted three Germans sleeping in a room.

Holding their breaths they crept through the room, got outside, evaded a sentry and eventually found their way to U. S. lines.

Hawaiian Power Expansion Seen

WASHINGTON—The House Naval Affairs committee approved a bill granting to the Hawaiian Electric Co. Ltd. the authority to expand its plant facilities at Pearl Harbor. The measure was introduced by Delegate Farrington.

The bill gives the utility the right to enlarge its facilities at the military reservation to permit expansion of generating capacity of the Pearl Harbor plant through the construction of ditches, tunnels and oil pipelines.

The committee voted unanimously for the bill after hearing Vice Admiral Ben Morrell, chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, read a letter from Acting Navy Secretary Ralph A. Bard recommending passage.

Representative Mott, Republican, Oregon, questioned, however, the feasibility of giving the territorial company a "perpetual franchise."

Providing that the right of the United States to condemn the property is hereby reserved. It was defeated 9-8 and Mott indicated he would offer the amendment again from the floor.

BRIEF NEWS OVER STATE

BRISTOL—Chinese communists are really rough when they ransom a town, says Missionary William R. Johnson, citing a case where a million dollars was obtained. "The city fathers were suspended by their thumbs, candles lighted beneath their feet, and when they failed to give in, wedges of bamboo were driven under their fingernails and toenails," he said.

JOHNSTOWN—Did he trump her ace? Police reported they arrested a woman after she kicked and injured a man during an argument over a card game.

POITSTOWN—Police are looking for a thief who really believes in signs. Thomas Weiss, a tailor, placed an "out to lunch" sign on his door when he stepped out for a quick snatch, and the thief entered the shop and took $7.

NORRISTOWN—He's really "out" J. A. Alderfer of Harleysville got tired of customers asking for things he didn't have at market, so he posted the following sign: "Out of poultry, out of butter, out of patience, out of town."

NORRISTOWN—Dr. Theodore Distler, president of Franklin and Marshall college at Lancaster, told the Montgomery-Bucks county dental society that the current trend in the nation of the political regimentation of education precluded the inauguration of national socialism in Europe.

BRISTOL—"The mail must go through" is the credo of postal authorities so Mrs. J. C. Johnson received a fire-charred letter from her husband in the European theatre of operations with a note from the New York postmaster that the airplane carrying the mail had been wrecked and burned.

CONNELLSVILLE—Pvt. John Wally Shroyer, local football star who was a standout freshman pigskin totter at Penn State college, will be repatriated and sent home from Germany on the Gripsholm.

HARRISBURG—Governor Martin's hint that he does not intend to "crack down" on lobbyists in the legislature was in marked contrast to a bill introduced during the Earle administration which would have made the so-called "legislative engineers" register.

HARRISBURG—Just prior to the lifting of the embargo on coal shipments, Governor Martin called the order a "blunder" and pointed to the hard coal fields where anthracite mines were forced into idleness while freight yards bulged with idle gondolas full of coal desperately needed by consumers with empty bins.

BORO 99 YEARS OLD

GROVE CITY, Feb. 2.—The borough of Harrisville, near here, became 99 years old this month. The Volunteer Fire Department of the town has announced that it will sponsor a Centennial celebration next year. Plans have already been set in motion for the event.

NO POTATO SHORTAGE

HARRISBURG, Feb. 2.—The public need not be unduly alarmed because of any current temporary shortage of potatoes which may exist in scattered communities, the Bureau of Markets, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture reports today. Heavy snows and drifting of rural roads and farm lanes, particularly in western and northern Pennsylvania potato growing counties, have made it impossible for farmers to move quantities of their stocks off the farm for the past six to eight weeks in some instances, it was said.

To save sugar, cook raisins or prunes with cereals to sweeten them.

Employment And Education Are Discussed By Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, Fla., Feb. 2.—Postwar full employment depends upon keeping the national income up to $120 billion or more. This compares with a prewar figure of $80 billion. Some increase.

Three times in the past, the U. S. was up against a similar problem. (1) In 1845-8 following the Mexican war, there would have been a revolution in the U. S. except for the acquisition from Mexico of Texas and seven other states. (2) In 1874-9, following the Civil war, there would have been economic chaos except for the development of the railroad. (3) In 1919-23 following World War I, there again would have been an economic collapse had not the "horseless carriage" saved the day.

To jack up national income 50 per cent and prevent unemployment, some new great industry must be born, or some radical change must take place in education. I believe that—following World War II—some revolutionary change will take place in our system which now "educates" 30,000,000 people and spends billions of dollars annually. Hence, I repeat that postwar employment depends upon our school committees.

Memories Vs Brains
Here is my forecast: First, schools will give less attention to memory work and more to brain development. Such memory work as is given, should be concentrated on spelling, arithmetic tables and vocabularies which knowledge will help students get and hold jobs. Second, schools will give much more attention to training students to think and solve original problems—work which they dislike to do.

The above two changes would mean that students will take home more problems to work out, but fewer textbooks to read. The present craze of juggling home a mass of textbooks, each day, results in less thinking. Encyclopedias and reference books can displace memories; but nothing can take the place of brains. Employers can install machines to do everything but think. Hence, students should be taught to pioneer and create jobs, rather than memorize and hunt jobs.

Need Of Good Habits
The third important change will be in helping students develop good habits and self-control. The student should be taught to diagnose and govern his own will, anger, fear, etc. Upon these emotional traits, his health, happiness and economic value largely depend. Students will frankly be told that body, mind and soul are one; that work in the small laboratories of their private individual lives is more important than work in the large laboratories of schools and colleges. School committees will realize that the student's greatest need is for self-discipline, so necessary to co-ordinate body, mind and spirit. Our present school system worked fairly well before the days of mass production and modern conveniences; but if continued along present lines will result in much postwar unemployment. The present universal fear of unemployment and the increasing demand for "security legislation" clearly indicate the present lack of a pioneering and independent character.

Spiritual Energy Necessary
Unfortunately, school committees are mistaking material wealth, in terms of dollars, for human progress, in terms of usefulness. Christian philosophy, biology and psychology, as they relate to each student, are very important. The development of this spiritual field, following World War II, can be as effective in preventing postwar unemployment as was the Louisiana Purchase following the Mexican war, the building of the railroads following the Civil war and the automobile industry following World War I. Certainly, it can be shown that acquiring self-mastery to use one's energy constructively is in the self-interest of every student. This is the religious awakening for the need of which the world is today suffering. True intelligence needs spiritual energy, kindly feelings, insight and imagination. Find out the one thing in which each student is most interested. When this is discovered, it is easily possible to convince him the necessity of self-mastery. By so revising the educational program, school committees can both best serve the students' and the nation's future welfare.

SCABIES

Scabies is a disease of the skin caused by an itch mite or bug.

These mites are very small and can hardly be seen with the naked eye. They dig little burrows in the skin and lay eggs in them.

A favorite place for these burrows is between the fingers, but they travel.

The activities of these little pests cause an intense itching. These mites are nocturnal, that is, they work on the right shift. Usually about bedtime they begin to get busy. They cause a lot of scratching and interfere with sleep.

When indications of scabies appear, it is well to have medical attention.

It is a pretty hard job to clear up the condition.

Plan Showing Of Soldier Art

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 2.—A showing of soldier art, winning selections submitted by men from more than 400 camps, posts and stations within the Third Service Command, embracing Pennsylvania, Virginia, and Maryland will be held in Baltimore, Md., in May at the conclusion of the Command's Army Arts Contest. Major General Philip Hayes, Commanding General, announced today.

The contest is now being conducted at posts and camps as part of the National Army Arts contest, sponsored by the Army's Special Services Division in all Service Commands throughout the country. General Hayes explained.

Eight classes of exhibition items, including oils, water colors, murals, sculpture, prints, drawings and photographs, may be entered by the Command's GI artists. General Hayes said, and will be judged for originality, ingenuity and craftsmanship by a committee of military and civilian artists. Prizes will be awarded to winners in all groups.

Back In 1902 February Had 104 Temperature

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Now that February's here, it may comfort you to know that the highest temperature ever recorded in the United States in February was 104 degrees.

So says the Weather Bureau. That was in Texas, back in 1902. California is the only other state where the official thermometer has reached 100 in February.

The lowest February temperature on record is 66 below zero in Wyoming in 1933. That also is in the United States record for any month.

For the whole country, the average February temperature is 34.5.

Repatriated War Prisoners Will Tour 30 Cities

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—A group of 12 repatriated American prisoners of war began in New York a tour of 30 cities to bring families of servicemen first hand news of conditions in enemy prison camps. The tour was arranged by the army air forces in co-operation with the American Red Cross. It is directed by Capt. Ragnar Barhaug, Casper, Wyo., chief of the air force prisoner of war section.

Ten of the repatriates were held in German camps. Two survived the torpedoing of a Japanese prison transport off Mindoro Island in the Philippines last fall.

Other cities of the itinerary are: Columbus, Feb. 11; Detroit, Feb. 13 and Louisville, March 25.

NEW RANGE FINDER FOR ANTI-AIR GUNS

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 2.—Development of a new type range finder, the M-10, which gives deadly accurate control of 40 mm. anti-aircraft gunfire, was announced today by Eastman Kodak company and the Rochester Ordnance district.

The finder, 30 inches long and 10 inches in diameter, uses two telescopes to give two targets images, one red and one blue. The gunner gets his bead by superimposing the two images until a natural color target is spotted.

Train Is Derailed Near Harmarsville

HARMARVILLE, Pa., Feb. 2.—(INS)—Twenty-four cars of a 30-car westbound Pennsylvania railroad freight train were derailed at Hulton Ferry, near Harmarsville today.

Both tracks were blocked and railroad officials said service would be interrupted for about 12 hours. Trains were detoured over the railroad's tracks on the Allegheny Valley side of the river.

MAY CUT MEAT SUPPLY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The government is getting ready to take a new tack in the already slim meat rations of civilians. War Food Administration officials revealed. The officials said that neither the army nor lend-lease has been getting enough meat under the present purchase program and warned that an upward revision was imminent in the amounts of beef and pork that packing plants must serve for government purchase.

During 1942, a new kind of synthetic rubber, paracron, was developed which is valuable as a special replacement for natural rubber, particularly in the aircraft industry.

Men Liberated From Jap
Prison On Luzon To Be Sent Back To U. S.

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
A BASE HOSPITAL ON LUZON, Feb. 2.—The prospect of returning soon to their homes and loved ones and the tonic of a pledge of early victory on Luzon from a commander who makes good his promises has wrought amazing recoveries among the 510 prisoners of war freed by American Rangers and Filipinos from the notorious Cabanatuan prison camp Monday night.

Today, more than 200 of the rescued heroes of Corregidor and Bataan were at this base hospital awaiting orders to sail for home while the others were routed thru an emergency hospital 25 miles away.

At the emergency hospital, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who had led them in the misery of defeat, and had solemnly vowed, "I will return," gave them the strong medicine that the Stars and Stripes will fly again soon over Corregidor and Manila.

To one of the prisoners who asked, "sir, please let me go back to Corregidor with you," Gen. MacArthur replied:

"We are going back, all right, and will take you with us."

Gen. MacArthur remembered many of them by name and recalled the precise circumstances of their last meeting in the dark days of Bataan. He made no attempt to conceal his emotions as he clasped the hands of one after another.

Missionary To Be Speaker Tonight

Colored slides, depicting missionary work in Colombia, South America, will be shown by Rev. Frederick A. Smith, missionary to that country tonight at 7:30 in the Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street. Many of the pictures, taken personally by Rev. Smith, who represents the Christian and Missionary Alliance in South America, show the advancement of Christian missions on that continent. The speaker will give a description of each picture.

The service is being sponsored by the young people of the church. In order to conserve heat, the meeting will be held in the church basement instead of the main auditorium of the church.

Loss Of Three U. S. Ships Announced

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(INS)—The navy announced Thursday the loss of two destroyer mine sweepers, the U. S. S. Hovey and U. S. S. Palmer, and a tank landing ship sunk by the enemy in the Philippines area.

The navy said the skippers of all three vessels had survived but did not indicate whether casualties had been heavy or light.

The normal complement of a destroyer minesweeper is 120 men, while an LST normally carries a crew of 64.

The LST was identified as No. 759.

Setback In Case For Commonwealth

Some Testimony In Trial Of Police
Chief In Mistake Slayings
Stricken Out

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 2.—(INS)—The commonwealth's case against Stove Township Police Chief William C. Duerr for the mistake slayings of two war workers suffered a severe setback today after Trial Judge Henry Ellenbogen ordered previous testimony damaging to the defense stricken from the record.

Allegheny County Detective Sgt. Samuel J. Riddle previously testified that he ran along the outside of the Bayer dairy, Middletown road, while Chief Duerr was chasing the two victims through the dairy company's office and shouted to Duerr:

"For God's sake don't shoot."

Yesterday Defense Attorney Roy T. Clunk in a motion asked that this part of Riddle's testimony be stricken from the record. He maintained it was improper because Riddle did not call Chief Duerr by name when warning him; because Riddle was outside the building and that Chief Duerr may not have heard the shout and also because one of the men being chased could have cried out "for God's sake don't shoot."

The victims of the shootings were Edwin N. Schuler, 23, of McKees Rocks, and Ralph Landefeld, 29, of Kennedy township. They were shot last June 10 after accidentally getting into a police trap set for automobile thieves.

Dental Utopia Is Promised

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 2.—(INS)—Believe it or not, a dental Utopia is coming which will send false teeth to the junkpile, according to Dr. E. Howell Smith, president-elect of the Philadelphia County Dental society.

Research in "mouth rehabilitation" is expected to develop such healthy teeth that they won't decay or wear out, Dr. Smith told the society's annual sessions.

But don't throw your store teeth away, he warned. "It will take many generations and tons of money" before the Utopia is achieved.

Fishermen Seek More Red Points

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—(INS)—It takes a lot of red corpuscles and muscle to go on a fishing trip to the Georgia banks and bring back a catch for meat-hungry landlubbers.

That's why 300 New York fishermen joined today in the plea of salts from Boston and New Bedford for OPA trebling of their red ration points. The New Yorkers, claiming the present allowance is insufficient to sustain them in their arduous work, threaten to keep their fishing boats tied to the wharves unless their plea is granted.

It's a case of "no meat for us, no fish for you landlubbers."

The first Liberty ships were built in 2413 days; the time today is 39.2 days. This has been possible because so many ships of an identical pattern were constructed to common standards.

525 TAGS SOLD

One day's sale of dog tags in Ellwood City brought 525 responses, County Treasurer Frank W. Hill said Thursday. He expects to return on February 8 to Ellwood City and give others an opportunity to get their tags. Weather conditions undoubtedly prevented a larger sale than the one reported above.

New Castle Man Weds In Florida

Another Southern Romance
For Former Residents
Of New Castle Cited
By News Man

SOME GLIMPSES OF ST. PETE' ACTIVITY

(By JAMES P. CALDWELL)

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Jan. 31.—Chaff up another romance for the green benches. Mrs. Mabel Calhoun, of this city, and Llewellyn Preston of New Castle, were united in marriage here yesterday at high noon.

The ceremony was performed at the First Methodist church. Dr. Robert Allen, pastor. Earl Evans, minister of music at the church, and Mrs. Evans were the only attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston entertained at a candlelight dinner last evening at the Huntington hotel.

Mrs. Preston has been coming to St. Petersburg for the past 20 years and now makes her home here, where she is prominent in real estate. She formerly resided in Albany, N. Y., and is a past grand electa of the grand O. E. S. chapter of New York. She is also past president of the Pennsylvania society, past president of the Welsh society, and secretary of the New York State College Alumnae association. Mr. Preston was employed by the Carnegie Steel company in Pittsburgh for a number of years, and later at the New Castle mill. He first came to St. Petersburg seven years ago. He has made quite a reputation here as a singer. He has not been home for about two years.

This makes the fourth marriage of New Castle people here within the past year. Girls, if you can't find anybody to suit your fancy at home, come down here, the courtings fine on the green benches.

Recent Arrivals

Among the recent arrivals in St. Petersburg is: E. Swift Warnock, who has retired as manager of a bath house emporium in New Castle. He is now taking sunshine baths on the green benches. One nice thing about a sunshine bath is that you save soap and do not have to do any rubbing. Warnock is accompanied by his trusty pipe, which is sure a great comfort on a green bench.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Reynolds are also here again and are having a fine time shuffling and wearing out their shoes.

Mrs. Elsie Nettle, of Wallace avenue, arrived here Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Allen and Mrs. Caldwell and I met her at the train, which was several hours late. It was a long wait, but there was a full moon and we spent the time trying to get a line on Tamak's airship which was supposed to be on the way there, according to Brick Bradford's strip in The News.

We are expecting Mr. and Mrs. William Francis here this week. They are coming by way of Cincinnati to escape Washington. Most everybody likes to escape Washington. You never know when you might be grabbed off for an ambassadorship or something.

Charles Owens arrived here yesterday. Haven't met him yet but am expecting a collision any day.

Some other arrivals are: Mr. and

Books On Dolls, Building, Painting, Carpentry, Sewing, Drawing, Etc. At Library

Are the children restless with no school? Do they wander around the house under your feet saying, "Mother what can I do now?" She has listed forty such books available at the boys and girls department of the library and there are many others. Ask for them at the desk.

Conservation Of Coal Is Urgent, Maize Asserts

HARRISBURG, Feb. 2.—The beginning of the "brown-out" ordered by the government in an effort to save at least 2,000,000 tons per year of the nation's coal supply, should serve to remind household users of this fuel that they should further reduce their daily consumption of coal and offset this reduction by burning the coal with greater efficiency, says Richard Maize, secretary of mines for Pennsylvania and state director of fuel conservation.

The present scanty coal supply, coupled with the recent warning of Harold Hicks, secretary of the interior and solid fuels administrator, that the production of coal in 1945 will be considerably below that produced last year, caused Mr. Maize to appeal urgently to every household in the state to take more stringent measures than ever in saving coal and conserving heat.

"We have been far too complacent about our national coal shortage," said Maize. "We take it for granted that somehow we will muddle through and are often prone to overlook or neglect the prime importance of consistently saving every pound of fuel and conserving every degree of heat that we possibly can."

"One widespread and costly source of coal wastage," Maize pointed out, "is inefficient furnace operation. Now that most furnaces have been in operation steadily for the past three months or more, every domestic consumer should thoroughly examine his furnace and remove the accumulation of soot, fly-ash and scale which clog flues, cover boilers and seriously reduce the heating efficiency of the furnace."

"The furnace grates should be examined to make sure that they are in good order and any broken part should be replaced immediately. The furnace jacket and all chimney connections should be carefully tested for cracks and leaks which, if found, should be sealed with furnace cement. He should see to it that the doors and dampers fit closely and operate properly."

"Inefficient furnaces burn coal and money with inexcusable waste. If the householder finds that he cannot clean the furnace himself or make such repairs as are necessary, he should call in a plumber, heating contractor, or any other competent assistant that may be available to do the job for him. The important need is to act promptly. A neglected furnace, needing cleaning or repair, can cause serious trouble and should be given careful attention without delay."

Top Crop Producing Counties Are Listed

HARRISBURG, Feb. 2.—The "first" or highest farm crop producing counties in Pennsylvania, according to latest available statewide information compiled by the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service in the State Department of Agriculture for 1943, have been listed as follows:

Lancaster County leads in the production of corn, winter wheat, barley, tobacco and pears. Berks produces more oats than any other county. Top production of rye and peaches is credited to Franklin county and Bradford leads all counties in hay and buckwheat.

Lehigh leads in potatoes, Adams in apples and cherries and Erie is first in the production of grapes.

DPC To Finance Big Southern Tire Plant

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Defense Plant Corporation announced it will finance a $6,000,000 plant at Houston, Texas, to be operated by Kelley-Springfield Tire Co., Cumberland Md.

Truck and bus tires for both military and civilian use will be manufactured at the plant, according to information received by Sen. Connally (D-Tex.) The capacity of truck tires will be 350,000 annually; the output of bus tires was not disclosed.

Expected to be in production by July, the plant will be owned by the Rubber Reserve Corporation, a federal agency.

Yanks Can See Manila Suburbs

By LEE VAN ATTA
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

GENERAL MARTIN'S HEAD-QUARTERS, Luzon, Feb. 2.—Manila is within visual distance of powerful American columns converging on the capital from north and south
tonight.

On the central plains front advanced 14th Corps patrols, pressing south from Calumpit, can easily see the city's suburbs from high ground within visual distance of powerful American columns converging on the capital from north and south
tonight.

All eyes are on Manila and its imminent fall.
Although definite confirmation is lacking there are reports from both the infantry and air arm that the Japs have already set fire to the Manila dock area and "some other military installations."

Pilots who flew over Manila today asserted a pall of smoke hung over the waterfront and several large fires were visible.

Marlene Says She's Through With Hollywood

By FRANK CONNIFF
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH AMERICAN FORCES AT STOLBERG, Germany, Feb. 2.—
Marlene Dietrich broke a bit of news today that should dismay movie-lovers the world over—she is through with Hollywood.

The glamorous German-born actress, interviewed for the first time on the home soil she left the moment that Nazi tyranny began to make itself felt, was very definite about it.

"I am through with Hollywood,"
she said.
"It was a very difficult place to live in anyway after I had learned how much it meant to give my time to the entertainment of American troops."

Blaze Early This Morning Does
Serious Damage To Martin
Street Residence

Fire, caused by a furnace being set too close to the floor in the home of Mrs. Doris Drespling, of 417 Martin street, caused damage of around $1,000, at 3:50 a. m. today. Fire Chief James E. Thomas reports.

Three companies responded to the alarm from Box 36, and brought the fire under control, but not before the blaze had burned through the cellar ceiling into the first floor of the house.

At 9:39 p. m. Third ward firemen were called to the property of George Malizia, 1328 Laurel place, where a kid's shanty was found afire on the rear of the property.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 2.—Continued cold weather today increased Western Pennsylvania's gas and coal shortage, thus adding an additional threat to the already slumping war production.

Two hundred Pittsburgh war plants already have shut down or curtailed operations and at least eight more were cut off from their natural gas supply today when the WPB diverted another five million cubic feet to Ohio.

Thousands of war workers, some of them working in plants producing critically-needed shells and other munitions, have been thrown out of work temporarily.

The government ordered a new embargo on civilian railroad freight but coal shipments were exempted.
The embargo is effective at midnight tonight.

Military Training After War—Hopkins

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—(INS)—A
"perpetual army of occupation" for Germany and Japan as the "only way to prevent them from rearming eventually" was advocated today by Harry Hopkins, adviser to President Roosevelt.

Writing in the American Magazine, Hopkins—who is now abroad paying the way for the President's participation in the "Big Three"
meeting—asked for compulsory military training in the United States after the war.

"When this war ends," he continued, "we must immediately prepare to defend ourselves, particularly to make sure our enemies realize that if they ever dare to strike again, they'll lose again."

Good sheets depend on thread-count, which is the number of cotton threads per inch in the warp,

Puts Limitations On Choice Cattle

OPA Limits Number Of Good And Choice Grades Of Cattle
For Slaughter

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(INS)—
The OPA today placed limitations on the number of good and choice grades of cattle which packing plants may slaughter in February and March.

This action, OPA said, will affect slaughterers dealing almost exclusively in high grade cattle who have been draining the available supply of better grades away from other plants and thus increasing supplies in the black market.

Effective Feb. 1
Effective Feb. 1, the order follows stabilization director Vinson's directive of Jan. 10 authorizing OPA to take the step.

OPA set 75 percent as the top limit of good and choice grade slaughter in the mountain, west coast, corn belt and northeastern states, and 50 percent in the southeastern states, Oklahoma and most of Texas.

Beef packers will be required, under the February-March program, to kill some of the lower grades and distribute this meat to their trade.
In the past, many packers had killed only high grade beef, much of which was channeled into black market outlets.

Urges Full Day's Coal Production

Fuel Administrator Urges Anthracite Miners To Get Out Full Quota Saturday

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(INS)—
Deputy Solid Fuels Administrator
C. J. Potter today urged Pennsylvania anthracite miners to get out a full day's production tomorrow because of the urgent need of fuel coal in northern and northeastern communities.

Potter said that through no fault of the hard coal miners approximately one day's anthracite output was lost early this week when the rail embargo resulted in the withholding of cars at the mines.

The deputy SFA chief pointed out that the severe winter weather in the northeast makes every pound of anthracite possible needed to avert actual suffering by consumers who depend on hard coal for heating their homes.

Potter said that under a union agreement anthracite miners do not receive time and one-half pay for Saturday work unless they worked for the five previous consecutive days. Nevertheless he urged all miners, whether eligible for extra Saturday pay or not, to get out as much coal as possible tomorrow.

Reviewing the coal emergency,
Potter said that in some cases it has been necessary to divert industrial soft coal to northeastern householders to relieve distress.

Schools and business houses have been closed in various communities to save coal for householders and every effort is being made to deliver coal from cars in rail terminals.

Anthracite is the principal fuel for space heating in the New England and Middle Atlantic states.

Wallace Will Not Head R.F.C.

May Get Commerce Post But Without Huge Loan Agencies Control

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Henry A. Wallace, once "fired" as chairman of the Board of Economic Warfare and denied nomination as vice-president, today appeared safely headed for a post in the cabinet as secretary of commerce.

Senate opponents of the Wallace economic philosophy had won the victory. They had blocked his nomination so long as the secretary of commerce supervises federal loan agencies with commitments of over forty billion dollars.

But administration leaders, having bowed to this opposition, declared that they had the votes to confirm Wallace for the commerce post alone.

See Stiff Fight

There still may be a stiff fight against his confirmation. A vote on this issue was postponed until March 1 by the senate.

Leading opponents of Wallace were uncertain whether they will continue their battle to keep him out of the cabinet altogether. They believed they could rally at least 40 of the senate's 95 votes against him.

"I do not know what will be done in the future," said Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), one of the opposition leaders.

In a series of rapid moves, administration leaders gained the upper hand in the battle.

The senate, on one test vote, favored Wallace by a tie vote when Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), changed to the prevailing side so that he could make a motion to reconsider, making the vote 48 to 41. He dropped this plan, however.

Pass George Bill

The senate then, by a vote of 74 to 12, passed the George Bill which divorces the loan agencies from the commerce department, and prohibits the president from retransferring the agencies to Wallace.

A message from President Roosevelt disclosed he would sign the George Bill and the measure was sent to the house where Democratic leaders promised quick action.

The virtual certain enactment of the George Bill, which revitalizes the position of federal loan administrator formerly held by Jesse H. Jones, gives the president an important appointment to make.

The names of Judge Fred Vinson, economic stabilization director, and Henry J. Kaiser, the famous ship-builder, led in the speculation.

Boy Amazed At Results, In Effort To Mail Letter

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 2.—(INS)—Ten-year-old Lee Leard of Norfolk, Va., was amazed today at the kind of attention Philadelphia accords a little fellow who wants to mail a letter.

Lee, who is visiting relatives, went to a corner box to dispatch a letter to his parents. A few minutes after he tried to cram the missive into the box he was surrounded by five engine companies, a water tower, two hook and ladder trucks, a rescue squad, three police cars and four high-ranking fire officials.

The firemen, who came prepared to save the U. S. Mint, located on the corner, accepted Lee's story when they found him standing by the fire alarm box, crying lustily and still clutching the letter in his hand.

Should Tell Story Of Nation's Greatness

Governor Martin Speaks To College Presidents' Meeting At Harrisburg Today

HARRISBURG, Feb. 2.—(INS)—Gov. Edward Martin declared today the commonwealth was seeking an educational system "not ashamed to sing the praises of American greatness."

"The true story of that greatness should be told in the great universities as well as in the lonely cross-road school houses," he told the Pennsylvania Association of College Presidents meeting at Harrisburg.

"The youth of Pennsylvania must know more about their own commonwealth and more about the United States," he asserted. "They should know the story of the sweat and tears, the blood and courage and deep devotion required to build America."

"They should know that our country does not depend upon one battle or one battlefield," the governor stated. "Its ultimate success depends upon moulding sterling character, believing in God, freedom and human rights."

"The nation is now considering a military system for the postwar period," he continued. "This must be established on the principle that wars of a republic must be fought by the people. A mercenary army is not only expensive but it tends toward centralization."

"We all detest war, but until at least the major part of the world recognizes and practices the teachings of Christ, armies and navies must be maintained," he concluded. "The threat of another dark age for mankind is too great."

DR. ASHLEY SEES NO NEED FOR U. S. TO IMPORT OIL

HARRISBURG, Feb. 2.—Dr. George H. Ashley, chief of the Bureau of Topographic and Geologic Survey of the Department of Internal Affairs, doesn't think much of the possibility of importing huge quantities of Russian crude oil for storage in the "depleted non-porous oil wells of Pennsylvania."

Dr. Ashley, an authority on Pennsylvania petroleum, in a letter to Pearson in reply to a recent statement, admits that it is not impossible to import oil from Iran and Iraq if you consider them already Russian. He says that in 1945 he expects the extremely low cost of production, but he views Europe as an importing rather than an exporting area.

Setting for the ability of the United States to meet its own needs, Dr. Ashley says this country "could keep up her present production for 15 years with no new discoveries, but new discoveries are constantly being made." This does not include recovery by secondary methods, which has yielded large returns in Pennsylvania but has not been thoroughly tested elsewhere. He estimates that at least 358,000,000 barrels of Pennsylvania oil may be recovered by present known methods, leaving 3,347,000,000 estimated barrels of original oil "a challenge to the petroleum engineers and geologists of the state."

Secretary of Internal Affairs Livingston, Jr., has asked the legislature for funds with which to make a further study of crude oil prospects and recovery in Pennsylvania.

Dr. Ashley quotes figures to prove that only a small quantity of oil could be stored in so-called "depleted" wells, unless forced into the sands under pressure, from which recovery would have to be made by secondary methods at the prohibitive cost of about $3 a barrel to be added to original costs of purchase and transportation. To store 20,000,000 gallons of oil, Dr. Ashley says, would require 200,000 wells and while Pennsylvania may possibly have that number, 80,000 still producing and many others have been shut and would require large expenditures to reopen.

Dr. Ashley concludes that, although there may be importation from Russia, "our own resources in the form of petroleum, oil shale and coal," from which oil may be extracted, "will run us a long time, perhaps several thousand years."

Local Physicians Hear Dr. W. Collier

Youngstown Pathologist Discusses "Transfusion Reactions," At Medical Society

Dr. W. D. Collier, pathologist of St. Elizabeth hospital, Youngstown, O., was the speaker at the Lawrence County Medical Society meeting held Thursday evening at 9 o'clock, at The Castleton.

Dr. Collier spoke on an interesting subject, "Transfusion Reactions." The first transfusions were not successful until the discovery of blood grouping by Landsteiner early in 1900. Even after the first theory of groupings, the transfusions occasionally occurred occasionally. In order to be successful it is necessary to find blood group to match between the patient and the blood donor. It is necessary to do cross matching, in both cold and warm room temperature. This is necessary since blood banks provide blood to be used that is cold.

Following Dr. Collier's most interesting and educational talk, refreshments were served.

March 1 is the next meeting when the local group will hear Dr. John Henry of Pittsburgh discuss "Peripheral Vascular Diseases and their Management."

Greenville Schools Have Coal Supply

GREENVILLE, Feb. 2.—Unless the weather falls to moderate within the next 10 days, local public school officials anticipate no interruption of classes because of the coal shortage.

Supt. of Schools A. Bruce Denington said today that "we ought to be able to weather the embargo period."

He reported that the school coal bins were "pretty amply stocked" at the present time. A survey made Monday showed a 10-day coal supply on hand at Penn High, while stocks at the elementary buildings were sufficient to last for a period of three weeks.

Huge Drifts Delay Train At Oil City

OIL CITY, Pa., Feb. 2.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania railroad today footed the bill for breakfast for 36 passengers on a Buffalo-to-Pittsburgh train which arrived five hours late at Oil City.

Carrier officials said the engine on the train, delayed by huge drifts and heavy flurries of snow, looked like a snow-plow by the time it arrived at Oil City, and had to be replaced with another engine.

The passengers aboard were taken to a restaurant near the station and given breakfast while the locomotive of the train was being changed.

Buses Travel North As Far As Meadville

Two buses have managed to travel the northbound routes this morning after being completely halted all day yesterday, according to Mrs. E. M. Crawford, of the local bus depot.

The roads seem to be cleared as far north as Meadville, although no reports have been received of the conditions of roads between Meadville and Erie.

NEWS AND VIEWS AT CAPITAL

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Feb. 2.—Absence among legislators continued during the fourth week of the session with Republican Majority Leader Franklin H. Lichtenwalter, of Lehigh, subtly noting the fact on the record under the guise of good-natured interrogation of Minority Leader Hiram G. Andrews, of Cambria. . . . A bloc of Philadelphia Democrats again failed to report for the Monday night session and Andrews did not ask for leaves of absence for his colleagues. . . . Prior to adjournment, Lichtenwalter jocularly asked Andrews where his colleagues were and the veteran Democrat admitted they were attending a political celebration.

Republicans have waved aside all protests to Chief Clerk William Habbysch's dismissal of Mrs. Justice Cohen, assistant clerk for 20 years. . . . Some house members, led by Delaware County Republican Rep. Ellwood J. Turner, were talking of rescinding Habbysch's appointment. . . . GOP elders well remember that the Dauphin county court overturned the dismissal of a senate employee thus establishing a precedent. . . . The court held the worker, who was elected by the senate, had a job for the life of the session, or two years.

Groundhog Not Likely Out Of His Home Today

Weather Conditions Are Very Much Against Any Egress From Winter Habitation

Having in mind that "groundhog day" occurred today, Owen Fox, city forester, meandered Thursday in groundhog territory in Gaston Park district.

Owen says that all signs showed the groundhog burrows were covered and sealed tight with a heavy blanket of snow, as it remains today.

Should Mr. Groundhog have any desire to emerge from his hibernating abode, his short legs would not take him much distance, for the deep snow would impede his progress and keep him submerged. Mr. Fox says that the woodchuck is one of the lucky fellows among wildlife that can exist without eating and also be cozy in his subterranean home during this hard weather, when it is almost impossible for those stirring about to get sufficient food to keep them alive.

Just as soon as this frigid weather is over, the groundhog will make up for all this lost time. His desired vegetation will grow rapidly after the sunshine makes its appearance and the snow is gone. The nitrogen placed in the ground by the heavy snowfall will cause the clover and grass to grow fast.

The Pennsylvania Home Rule Association has been joined by the state associations of township supervisors and commissioners in endorsing Gov. Edward Martin's program for returning the money collected by the cent-a-gallon liquid fuels tax to the municipalities to enable local authorities to reduce real estate taxes. . . . In an editorial published in the "Pennsylvania Road Builder," the associations stated: "If one cent of the gas tax is allocated to political subdivisions, the highway department will also benefit by $7,000,000 for the biennium. The appropriation now going to second class townships will remain in the motor fund for the highway department."

"However, it seems that certain industrial and political leaders are reported not in favor of giving political subdivisions all of the one cent as recommended by Governor Martin. They think that six-tenths of the one cent would be sufficient and are exerting pressure to accomplish their objectives."

"If the allocation of motor funds is to provide relief for the local taxpayers, then one cent is the least that should be allocated. Anything less than that amount will give cities, boroughs, and first-class townships little more than a token appropriation. . . . It would be no tax relief at all."

Troop movement division authorities advanced a slogan, "Join the Navy and See the World."

In one month the Troop Movement division at Fort Sill's Replacement Center issued a mile-and-a-half of railroad tickets, since this section issues tickets for each man leaving the center.

Ward Decision Appeal Action Being Planned

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—(INS)—U. S. District Attorney J. Albert Woll awaited word from the Department of Justice in Washington today to determine whether the government's appeal in the Montgomery Ward & Co. case shall be carried directly to the U. S. Supreme Court.

The government took its first step in the appeal yesterday when Woll filed with the clerk of the Federal District Court a designation of the contents of the case for certification to the Circuit Court of Appeals.

The statement charged that Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan, whose recent decision voided the presidential seizure of 16 Ward properties in Chicago and six other cities, erred in 29 instances, 12 in findings of fact and 17 in conclusions of law.

Previously it had been indicated the government would skip a decision in the Court of Appeals and seek a hearing directly before the U. S. Supreme Court, but it was said Washington had not yet decided on a course of action.

Film Studios Are Faced With Strike

Jurisdictional Dispute Arises Between Screen Actors Guild And Players Union

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 2.—(INS)—Hollywood's film studios today were confronted with a strike arising out of a jurisdictional dispute between the Screen Actors Guild and the recently formed Screen Players Union.

Officials of the Screen Players Union said picket lines would be thrown around every major studio in a move to force acceptance of a proposed interim working agreement for the industry's 4,000 extras, bit players and stunt men.

Spokesmen for the Screen Actors Guild, terming the S. P. U. walk-out a wildcat strike, said the Guild's members would go through the picket lines.

The strike, if effective, will leave the studios with role-playing actors and actresses, but with no extras or bit players.

The S. P. U. recently received N. L. R. B. certification as bargaining agent for extras, bit players and stunt men, but the Guild is still claiming jurisdiction over the latter two groups.

May Set Record In Mile Run In Millrose Games

Jim Rafferty, Favorite To Win Mile Race Saturday
At New York Garden

CLASSY FIELD WILL RUN MILE

By PAT ROBINSON
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—The 28th annual Millrose Games in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night will produce no new record in the famed Wanamaker mile but, according to Jim Rafferty, favorite to win the race, the winner will do 4:10 or a shade better than that.

Blaze track and field fans who have grown used to sensational mile races run by such stars as Glenn Cunningham, Les MacMillan, Gil Dodds, Walter Mehl, Chuck Fenske, Gene Venzke, Ray Conner and Lloyd Hahn will no doubt turn up a supercilious snout at a 4:10 mile.

Depends On Rafferty
Yet we can remember when Paavo Nurmi, the Flying Finn, first came to this country and started the world by running a 4:12 mile in the old Garden. We can recall some of the experts of those days writing that nobody would live to see faster time for the eight furlong route.

Not only a few years later track addicts are sniffing at a 4:10 mile. If Rafferty can shade 4:10 this early in the season, he probably will do the mile two or three seconds faster than that next month, and that kind of speed is pressing the world's indoor record.

Rafferty had done the mile in 4:10.3 on two occasions and he may have to do at least that well to head off Ensign Bill Hulse who has beaten Rafferty more than once in the past. Hulse once was clocked in 4:06 outdoors. He has the speed necessary to win but his condition is uncertain because he has spent much time at sea and has not had as much chance to train as he should have.

Ensign Bill Hulse, Rudy Simms and Don O'Leary sound out the mile field and all of them are stellar performers. O'Leary has been in the Coast Guard but he says he has raced enough to get under 4:15 and it is likely that he will step out and set a fast pace for the boys to follow.

Dan (AAU) Ferris does not expect to see any records broken in the mile or any of the other events on the program but he does look for the races to be as closely contested and as exciting as ever. "After all," says Dan, "what difference does it make whether a mile be run in 4:10 or 4:20 so long as the boys are battling all the way to a blanket finish."

CARDINALS WIN GAME

NEW CASTLE NEWS SPORTS

STAR SKIER GLIDES TO WAR

SKIMMING INTO ACTION down a steep slope, while on patrol duty for the U. S. 9th Army in Germany, Sgt. James R. Weik, Waussau, Wis., proves that he is quite an artist on skis. And indeed he is—for Weik, a Norwegian by descent, is leader of the Allies' ski patrol on the Western front and had a star rating as an expert skier in peace time. (International)

FAIR OR FOUL By LAWTON CARVER INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—(INS)—A phenomenon of the war will be unfolded at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Uncle Mike Jacobs, who recently was decorated for gallantry in action by keeping boxing alive during the war, is going to put approximately $100,000 worth of customers into the big local abattoir for the third match between Johnny Greco, a medical discharge from the Canadian army, and Bobby Ruffin, a local preliminary boy.

Uncle Mike was decorated by the boxing writers of New York with a guaranteed solid gold wrist watch which tells the time because he braved all the perils of money-laden fight customers without a qualm and went right on promoting his shows. That takes courage in these times, especially when all you can get for the peril and pain is a $100,000 house for a third match between these principals of this evening.

Must Have Something
The top price for the show is $16.50, or approximately an increase of 10 per cent since they met the first time. That was an $8 show. Their first encore was billed at $12. However, it begins to look as though Uncle Mike has something.

The customers must want what he's offering—just watch the attendance figures in your favorite newspaper tomorrow.

Also, it is a pretty good fight, though I personally wouldn't pay $14.50 to see these particular principals do it with hatchets in a telephone booth.

The background on this battle which has contributed to the decoration of Uncle Mike by the boxing writers is approximately this: The battlers met first on November 17 and Greco scored two knockdowns and won a decision. They met again on December 15 and Greco scored two more knockdowns but was held to a draw by the judges. The referee voted for Ruffin.

Expect Big Crowd
In the light of what is going on around here in basketball circles, perhaps this one looks like a bribe plot too! But that's from long distances—up close you can tell that they are leveling and committing all the mayhem allowable with gloves on their hands.

They happen to make a fine fight because Ruffin is a superior boxer and Greco is a knockout puncher. That's why Uncle Mike gets $16.50 a seat and the award of merit from the boxing writers.

The show is going to attract around 16,000 customers into Madison Square Garden for 10 rounds of what everybody hopes will be unrestrained carnage. Greco and Ruffin had better make it pretty good or they won't be permitted to come back for a fourth match.

Two Games In County League

New Wilmington At Union;
East Brook At Wampum,
Only Games Billed

Due to cold gymnasiums and snow-plied highways, the Section 21 basketball card for tonight is being kicked around. The two games that are definitely on for tonight are: New Wilmington at Union and East Brook at Wampum. The Bessemer at Shenango game is definitely off.

East Brook was originally carded at Princeton, but too much snow makes it impossible for the game to be played, as the roads are not too good. East Brook when approached by Coach Butler Henon of Wampum agreed to play the East Brook at Wampum game tonight instead of February 13 as the league schedule calls for. The highways to Wampum are said to be in good shape.

The games postponed by cold gymnasiums are:
Wampum at Mt. Jackson,
Bessemer at Shenango.

It is hoped that by next Tuesday the regular schedule can be resumed in the county. The New Wilmington-Union game will start at 7:30 o'clock, with a preliminary game between the Junior Varsity teams of the two schools. New Wilmington "Firecrackers," fresh from their recent startling upset of Wampum, will be the favorites to-night.

Union has a habit of rising to the occasion, and it may be that Coach Wilb Paterson will have a few surprises up his sleeve for the slick Greghounds, coached by Tommy Hutchison.

Junior Church League Games

Six more games will be played Saturday in the junior church basketball league at the "Y." It was announced.
The schedule will be as follows:
First U. P. vs First Baptist
Epworth Methodist vs First Christians.
Highland U. P. vs Trinity.
St. George vs Third U. P.
Croton Methodist vs Central Presbyterians.
Second U. P. vs First Presbyterians.

Titans-Bethany Battle Saturday

Layoff Ends For Towering
Titans, Cypher-Watkins
Missing From Lineup

FINAL HOME GAME UNTIL FEBRUARY 17

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Feb. 2.—Following their annual mid-semester layoff, Westminster college's Towering Titans swing into the district collegiate basketball race Saturday night, Feb. 3, meeting the Bethany Bisons in a return match on the local court.

Coach John Knight's Bisons should prove an obstacle to Westminster's chances of annexing their tenth win in 12 starts this season. When the two teams met last month, scorekeepers worked overtime keeping tab on field goals in the Titans' 96-50 triumph.

Cypher-Watkins Missing
Westminster will be without the services of two first stringers—Joe Cypher of Pittsburgh and Jack Watkins of Warren, O. Both men have passed their physical examinations and are awaiting induction into the service. Coach Grover (Pappy) Washabaugh's revised lineup will probably include Chris Wagner and John Kashlek, Duquesne freshman, at forward; Noble Jorgensen, at center, and Don Bennett and Al Bair of Homestead, at guard.

The Bethany game will be the last one here for the Titans until February 17, when Carnegie Tech makes its appearance here. Making their eastern trip next week, the Titans will meet Hamline University February 8 in Boston, and Bowling Green February 10 in Buffalo, N. Y.

Ring Decisions Cause Quandary

New York's Fistic Solon
Would Like To Find A
"Satisfy All" Decision
Method

By PAT ROBINSON
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—After watching two boxers wallop each other for ten rounds can you tell who won the fight? If so, how did you arrive at your decision?

Those are the questions Eddie Eagan, former Olympic champion and new chief of the New York Boxing Commission, would like to have answered. He held a conference with the boxing writers yesterday and today he is more puzzled than ever.

The main points at issue are these: Should the fight be decided on the number of rounds won or lost? Or should it be decided, as it is in many states, on a point basis? Should the man who lands the most punches or the man who goes the most damage be declared the winner?

Favors Damaging Blows
The New York state boxing law favors a fighter rather than a boxer because the rules specifically state that the judges and the referee may vote in favor of a man who has won the fewer rounds provided he has done more damage.

Eagan and the writers favor continuing the round system rather than the point system, probably on the ground that some of the referees and judges may not be able to count more than 10.

One thing is certain: Eagan is determined to do away with the complicated score card now in use which lists winner of each round, clean, effective punches, ring generalship, defense and reductions for fouls.

Granting that all the judges and referees can read—and that's a fair-sized admission—when would they have time to figure out so many points for each during the minute rest period between rounds?

Three Different Decisions
It is generally admitted that the best system would have only a competent, honest referee and no judges but the law in this and other states requires judges. Since a change in the law would be necessary to return to the ancient system, is there any common ground for judging a fight so that we won't have one judge voting for Smith, another for Jones and the referee calling the fight a draw as often happens now?

It's been our experience that this divergence of opinion stems mainly from the way in which a fight is judged. Some favor sheer boxing skill, while others favor a puncher. That is to say, some think a dozen light harmless jabs to the jaw are worth more than one solid smash to the stomach that does real damage.

What do you say? If you have any pet system that everybody could follow with fairness to both battlers, Eagan would be glad to know it. Let's hear from you!

Game Called Off
At Princeton High
According to announcement by Principal Watson of East Brook high, the scheduled East Brook at Princeton game for tonight has been called off by the icy condition of the highways and the heavy snow.

ONE can find a bit of humor in almost every serious situation. At least the chronicler of a battle on the Saar did and it concerns Major Bob Moore of this city. It appears from the army release of December 27 concerning action around the middle of December, tank destroyers at Dilligen were sent forward to aid the doughboys to cross the Saar. A ferry was established and some platoons went across. Pillboxes were lambasted and smokestacks which hid artillery observers were blown down. The action followed a crossing in a pitch black night through a swamp and over roads two feet deep with water. An order came later to "evacuate the bridgehead, change in mission". The army release says:

"Major Robert L. Moore, New Castle, Pa., moved in to relieve Colonel Spiess and immediately had Lt. Napier, pioneer platoon leader, help the division engineers prepare the bridges for demolition, blow up stalled vehicles and pillboxes. All through the night Major Moore directed the vehicles to the ferry site and kept things moving. Although he saved all but two of the battalions vehicles, too badly damaged to be moved, he failed miserably in one effort. He couldn't get any of the 1,500 bottles of wine out of Dilligen, even though he was the last man to leave the area."

Lee Oma is the rags to riches boy because of his ten-round win over Joe Baksi whom Lee sent back to the coal mines. However, Lee better exercise care. . . Here are a few items about that basketball bribe story you may have missed. . . The Brooklyn cagers involved ran in ages from 17 to 22. . . The plan was to keep the ball away from Bill Rosenblatt, center of the Brooklyn team, who is known as a dead shot. . . According to one of the youths, "we figured we would lose on the difference and refuse to let him score." . . . Akron was the favorite in the game but the point shot was only 6-8. . . The gamblers, apparently, could bet on Akron, spot Brooklyn the eight points, and collect plenty when Brooklyn lost by 10 or 15 points. . . Three of the accused cagers, Leder, Farnett and Pearlstein, were inducted into the army and later discharged for medical reasons. . . One of the players said that they had been repeatedly approached by gamblers during the season. . . Brooklyn College has played three games at Madison Square Garden, losing the first to Western Michigan, 58-52, the gamblers winning on both sides since the pool point odds were 5-7. In the other games Brooklyn upset W. Kentucky, 48-45 and beat Texas Christian, 56-31.

Sheriff Culklin, once a well-backed campaigner on New York tracks, now is running at Mexico City's Hipodromo De Las Americas. . . Bookies are spending a lot of their time playing cards now. . . New Castle At Farrell Floor Saturday Night

New Castle-Farrell Game
Set For Saturday Night
Due To Officials
Trouble

THREE GAMES IN LEAGUE TONIGHT

New Castle High school basketball team will be idle in Section Three tonight, but on Saturday night will travel to the spacious Farrell High floor for a battle with the Night Riders.

The reason for scheduling the game for Saturday instead of tonight as called for by the calendar, was due to the fact that no competent officials could be secured by Farrell High authorities to handle the game.

Three Games Tonight
The only games on the Section Three card tonight are as follows:
Ellwood City at Ambridge,
New Brighton at Sharon,
Aliquippa at Beaver Falls.

New Castle hopes to make a creditable showing at Farrell on the strength of the 22 to 20 sizzler Farrell edged out here a few weeks ago. New Castle will face the Tudor Levis coached machine minus three stars who saw action in the New Castle-Farrell game here—Freddie Wimer, Eddie Jackson and Bill Fisher.

New Lineup Set
The loss of these three key men has hurt the New Castle quintet quite a bit. New Castle with a new lineup defeated Ford City High here last Saturday night, and looked impressive but the real test will come Saturday on the big Farrell floor. Coach Phil Bridenbaugh will probably start the same lineup, that faced the Glassers—Andrews and Koszela on the forwards, Pete Slack at center, and Ray Owoe and Dick Whitlaker at the guards.

EPWORTH WINS GAME
The Epworth team of the Church league handed the Keystones of the House league a trouncing last night in an exhibition game at the "Y," 53 to 28. Eddie "Coach" Nahan with 21 points, led the Epworths in scoring, along with Dusty Rondes and Frank Reed.

Ready To Name Baseball Czar

Frick Believed Has Inside
Track On Post Vacated
By Death Of Judge
Landis

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—(INS)—The committee of ten formed to draw up a new major league baseball agreement will hold its second meeting in New York today after which the American and National Leagues will hold separate sessions to approve, amend or reject the agreement. The two leagues will announce their decision at a joint session tomorrow.

It was expected that the agreement would be approved and that a new baseball commissioner would be elected.

Must Have Majority
Under the old agreement, which was drawn in 1920 and under which the office of baseball commissioner was established, a majority vote of the 16 clubs in both leagues was necessary to elect a commissioner. But the late Judge Kenesaw M. Landis insisted on a unanimous vote before accepting the office and he got it although the clubs actually voted 11 to 5 on the first ballot.

It has been rumored that the new agreement will make a vote of 12 clubs necessary to elect a commissioner, in which case some of the men mentioned as candidates would have a hard time rounding up the necessary votes. It has been said that Ford Frick, president of the National League, can count on nine votes out of this is by no means certain.

CAMPFIRE CORNER

WRAITH OF THE WINTER
WOODS

Snowy Owl

On a minor exploration jaunt a few days ago I found myself in an isolated, hilly region wooded with ancient oaks and a few other hardwoods, the ground deep under a blanket of fresh snow and the temperature hovering not far above zero. The sun shone dimly through a frosty haze. It was still as a moonlit cemetery. Singing along the floor of a little canyon, sharp declivities on either side, I experienced a feeling of being all alone in a gray-white world.

Then I sensed another presence in my winter wonderland. I looked up to glimpse a fluffy portion of the snowy outdoors winging away, ghost-like, on measured pinions through the branches overhead.

Typifies Silence

The snowy owl, great white owl, or "Wapacuthi" typifies the spirit of the silent white wilderness. He usually comes down from the north infrequently, during periods of extreme cold, though there are exceptional winters when the birds appear in considerable numbers in our northern states. When he does appear he is likely to avoid thickly settled areas, but unlike many of his kind he does much of his hunting during the daylight hours; so he is occasionally spied by a woodsman or hunter who wouldn't have sighted him had he been huddled motionless against a wintry background.

Not Pure White
Not all snowy owls are pure white. Sometimes they are rather on the salt-and-pepper side, with spots and bars of brown on head and shoulders and with underparts likewise barred with brown. Winging away through the woods they appear to be large birds, and in truth they are if only wingspread and length are considered. They measure as much as 60 inches—five full feet—from windup, with beak to end of tail. The female of the species being larger, is more dangerous than the male. She may tip the beam at as much as 5½ pounds, while her lesser half often weighs no more than 2½.

They're Predators
Predators? Well, in the sense that they'll consume muskrats, rabbits, ducks and other waterfowl, and poultry, too, if they get a chance, but they also devour a lot of rats and mice and are said to be scavengers. They're known to be expert at catching live fish, but they'll eat dead ones as well. During their brief stay in this country, ornithologists say, they probably do at least as much good as harm. I know I wouldn't have shot that owl of my winter canyon if I could have collected a sizable bounty on him. Except for a pair of abusive bluejays he was the only bit of wildlife I spotted that day.

Racing Circuit Plans Are Made

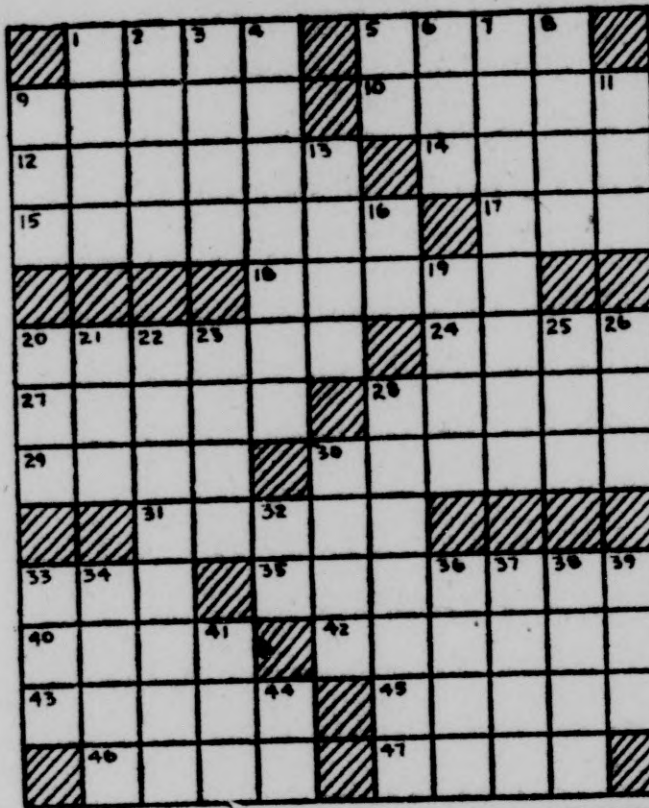

HARRISBURG, Feb. 2.—(INS)—Final plans for a horse racing circuit during the 1945 fair season were slated to be mapped today by the Pennsylvania State Association of County Fairs during the closing session of its 33rd annual convention in Harrisburg.

The proposed circuit would include Clearfield, Bedford, Butler, Carlisle, Lehigh, Allentown, Bloomsburg, Frederick, Md., Harrisburg, Del., and Trenton, N. J.

HUNTERS BLAMED IN FOREST FIRES

HARRISBURG, Feb. 2.—Only a small percentage of the hunters who go into Pennsylvania's forests start forest fires, yet this small percentage caused at least one-half of all forest fires in this state between June 1 and December 31, 1944, it was disclosed today by James A. Kell, secretary of forests and waters.

Complete fire reports for 1944, tabulated by George H. Wirt, chief of the department's protection division, show that last fall hunters were responsible for forest fires in 41 counties. A total of 131 fires caused by hunters burned over approximately 2,296 acres of forest land and cost the taxpayers $4,692.23 for extinction.

In Huntingdon county 15 forest fires were attributed to hunters, most of them caused by smoking game out of hollow trees or logs. Such acts are in violation of the game laws for protection of forests from fire, Wirt said, and added that every fall for the last five or 10 years a number of forest fires have started in Huntingdon county as a result of this illegal hunting practice.

Last fall there were 11 fires caused by hunters in Luzerne county, seven in Clearfield county, six in Fayette county and five in each of four other counties. In Centre county a hunting club, in order to improve deer food, set a forest fire that burned 325 acres and cost the Commonwealth $265 to extinguish.
